

INFORMED SPORT CERTIFIED

QUALITY YOU CAN TRUST

SPORT

IDLife has a commitment to only delivering the highest quality products from the cleanest sources of raw materials we can find, and insuring the manufacturing process adheres to rigorous quality standards throughout. With more than 10% of supplements on the market laced with ingredients prohibited in college and professional sports, we decided in 2019 to partner with Informed Sport to give our customers additional peace of mind about the purity and quality of IDLife's lifestyle products.

Benefits of Informed Sport Testing

- World Anti-doping Association (WADA) testing on every single batch produced
- Certified Finished Products: Products that carry the Informed Sport logo go through a full manufacturing audit and every batch is tested for a wide variety of WADA banned substances.
- Certified Raw Materials: Certified Raw Materials go through a full manufacturing audit and every batch is pre market tested for a wide variety of WADA banned substances.
- Certified Sites: Provides assurance that the manufacturing facility is equipped with adequate critical control procedures for manufacturing sports nutritional products

FAQ

What is Informed Sport?

Informed Sport is the only third party banned substance testing and certification program that tests every single batch of a product prior to being released to market. This ensures they are not inadvertently contaminated with substances prohibited in sport.

Why did IDLife Partner with Informed Sport?

The decision was easy for IDLife given our pledge to excellence. Any company truly committed to testing their products would use Informed Sport instead of the basic Informed Choice certification. IDLife is committed to Informed Sport certification testing to insure that every single batch, from every single lot, of lifestyle product produced and sold by IDLife do not contain any banned substances before being released to the market. Within this enhanced program, products are rigorously tested from raw materials, through the manufacturing process, pre-production samples, and finished product. That's peace of mind you expect from a high quality brand like IDLife.

Which products are Informed Sport certified?

A full listing of IDLife lifestyle products that carry the Informed Sport certification can be found at <https://www.informed-sport.com/supplement-search/brand/idlife>.

How does Informed Sport verify IDLife products?

The Informed Sport testing specification was developed by the world class sports anti-doping laboratory LGC, and is based on expert knowledge gained through the analysis of over 40,000 supplement samples over 10 years.

The program comprises:

- Product testing using ISO17025 accredited methods
- Thorough audit of the manufacturing quality controls, as well as the product label
- Pre-registration testing of products before entry onto the program
- Regular testing of products post registration
- Informed-Sport - Every batch/lot tested